ENGLISH FORCE
IS NOW SAFE

Gen. Manning Telegraphs
That Col. Swaine's
Force Reached
Bohottle.

NEED OF TROOPS

Wants the Indian Troops Sent to His Aid, and Also Others, for a Big
Army.

London, Oct. 23.—The war department is much relieved over the report from Somaliland sent by General Manning, who has gone there to relieve Col. Swaine. General Manning reports that Swaine's expedition is safe and that another is being fitted out to subdue the rebel forces.

Reached Bohottle
Col. Swaine and his mixed force of native troops and English officers reached Bohottle in safety after a most trying march owing to scarcity of transportation and lack of food and water supplies. They were not attacked.

Wants the Indian Troops
While General Manning says the situation is much relieved he wants the aid of the Punjab regiment from India and other troops. He will at once take the field in command of a strong force to meet "Mad Mullah's" forces.

Nearly Blotted Out
Col. Swaine and his force were attacked by "Mad Mullah" with an army of 15,000 men well armed with rifles and many officers and men in the fighting.

ROMANCE BEGAN IN A CITY HOSPITAL

Miss Adelaide Butts and Dr. A. E.
Low Were Married in Janesville
Last Evening.

Marriage vows were exchanged last evening by Miss Adelaide M. Butts, of this city, and Dr. Alexander E. Low, of Chicago, the pretty wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Butts, 160 Milton avenue. Only the relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony, there being about twenty-five guests.

It was 6:30 o'clock when the bride and groom, unattended, entered the parlors to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully played by Mrs. Thomas Wallis, and took their places before the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. L. McClellan, pastor of the Congregational church of Milton. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white albatross with trimmings of white moire and carried bride's roses.

Floral Decorations
The parlors in which the ceremony was performed were artistically decorated, the color scheme being green and white. Great ferns and immense bunches of carnations and roses were used effectively. The only color, other than the green and white, in the entire decorative scheme, was used on the bride's table in the dining room. A great bouquet of pink and white carnations, gracefully arranged, formed the centerpiece, and festoons of white satin ribbon entwined with trailers of smilax decorated the chandelier and were carried to the corners of the table.

Miss Inez Wilbur and Miss Cora Brown served the delicious three-course wedding supper which followed the ceremony and congratulations.

A Hospital Romance
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Butts, who moved to this city from Milton about three years ago. The greater part of that time she has been in the Chicago Homeopathic hospital, being a graduate nurse. It was while on duty caring for the sick and suffering that she first met Dr. Low, he having been an interne in the hospital for the past two years. It was this pretty romance, begun in the sick rooms at the hospital which had its happy culmination at the marriage altar last evening.

Left For Chicago
Dr. and Mrs. Low went to Chicago this morning on the 10:10 train and after a week or ten days they will return to this city to visit the bride's parents. The place of their future home has not been definitely decided, but wherever it may be, the happy couple will take with them the best wishes of many friends as well as a large number of costly gifts with which their friends remembered them on their wedding day.

Clarence Fish, who died at St. Louis, from the overdose of drugs, will be buried at Neenah.

Was Eating His Breakfast.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Rockford, Ill., Oct. 23.—Dr. A. Blood, of Capron, who is well-known throughout this district, died yesterday under very painful and mysterious circumstances. He sat down to breakfast, feeling well, when he suddenly became ill, and was soon paralyzed. A physician was called, but the doctor had already passed away in great agony. Some persons believe that he took too much alcohol, thinking that it was whiskey, but the physicians discredit this story.

Church Whistlers
Whistling in church, once regarded as a profanation, now bids fair to become a regular feature of the service.

At one of the New York churches Miss Louise Trux has introduced the novelty of whistling the offertory. So successful has this been in attracting the congregation to worship that many of the most fashionable churches in the city are now bidding for her services.

INDIAN AGENT ASKS AID FOR HELPLESS CHARGES

Drought Causes Great Suffering
Among the Jicarilla Apaches in New Mexico.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The worst drought in the history of Northern New Mexico prevailed during the six months ended last July, says the annual report of the agent at the Jicarilla Apache Indian agency, New Mexico. The crops for 1902 are a total failure. The Indians dug under the rocks for enough water to quench their thirst and drove their stock for days before finding water for them. Many horses, cattle, sheep and goats, according to the agent, died of hunger and thirst. "The Indians," he says, "have been drinking water that would kill an ordinary man. In spite of their self-help there is not enough income to keep the Indians from want."

The remedy advocated by the report is the sale of the timber, which, it is stated, would soon enable them to support themselves if the proceeds were applied to purchase of sheep and cattle. If a remedy is not applied the report suggests it is likely that the Jicarilla Apaches always will be a burden to the government.

To explain their disappearance. A number of new orchards are to be set out at Endeavor, as it is considered that apple raising has passed the experimental stage in that part of the state and that apples can be cultivated to advantage.

BUTTER-MAKERS' HEAD TO COME FROM IOWA

H. J. Nietart of Walker Likely to Be the New President of the Association.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 23.—Iowa, the first state in the union in the value and extent of its dairy interests, is to be honored with the presidency of the National Creamery Butter-Makers' association, now in convention here. H. J. Nietart of Walker, Ia., being the probable choice. He is at present chairman of the executive committee and has been for some years active in the affairs of the association. E. S. Endorf of Elgin, for some years secretary of the association, will succeed himself.

All the speakers before the convention have expressed great gratification at the passage of the oleomargarine law and steps have been taken to have the butter-makers represented in Washington to see that there is no further tinkering. The National Dairy union will probably take some action toward united effort against the oleomargarine interests. The question of the constitutionality of the oleo measure passed by congress is now before the Supreme court and the claim of the butter-makers that the use of palm oil for coloring is a violation of the law forms a feature of the fight which is still being waged with uninterrupted vigor.

work and several thousand more sult of an Accident at Ev-

James Gray, the Beloit switchman, who was run over by a train at Evansville yesterday afternoon, died this morning at the Beloit emergency hospital. The surgeons succeeded in setting the dislocated hip which he had but the other injuries were fatal.

Crushed By Freight

Gray was switching pulled into the station at Evansville at about a quarter of three yesterday afternoon, he was hanging on the side of a box car.
A truck standing on the platform, which he failed to notice, struck him and knocked him off. He rolled down between the platform and the rail, dislocating his hip, and suffering severe injuries. One leg was badly crushed.

Died This Morning
An engine was attached to the caboose and Gray was taken to Be-loft where the new city ambulance, given by W. M. Brittan, was in wait-

GEN. CUSTER'S SLAYER
TELLS OF THE DEED

Appearing Elk, Sioux Warrior, Describes His Part in Killing Indian Fighter.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Gen.
Custer was slain by a Sioux warrior of the name of Appearing Elk, according to Rev. Philip Doloria of Flora, S.
D., formerly a Sioux chief but now a minister attending the council of the Protestant Episcopal church in this city. Rev. Mr. Doloria gives the solution of the Little Big Horn mystery of 1876 in the words of Custer's slayer himself. Appearing Elk died last spring after having told his story to the minister.

"I have been the means of converting an old warrior named Appearing Elk, who was in the fight at Little Big Horn, in which Gen. George A. Custer fell," said Mr. Doloria. "Appearing Elk gave me the following account of the massacre: 'We had surrounded the last cluster of soldiers. I discovered that I myself was wounded. Suddenly a man in blue loomed up in front of me. I knew that he was a chief, but I did not know who he was. He was swaying like a drunken man from exhaustion and loss of blood from many bullet and arrow wounds. I felled him with my tomahawk and then sat on his body to be sure that I should not be robbed of my rights.

INVENTION THAT DOES GOOD WORK

TOBACCO SORTER WHICH SAVES LABOR.

THE IDEA OF AN EASTERN MAN

It Sorts the Leaves by a Most Delicate Method Very Accurately.

The following description of an invention which may materially aid tobacco men comes from the Springfield (Mass.) Daily Republican of Oct. 17. The paper was sent to Mr. S. C. Carr of Milton by his son, F. C. Carr of Springfield, and by him given to the Gazette:

The invention of J. W. Stanton, who lives on Western avenue, West Springfield, has constructed a tobacco-sizing machine that is expected to revolutionize the sizing department of the tobacco business. Heretofore the work of sorting and grading according to size of tobacco leaves, has been done by hand. It has been necessary to take a bunch of leaves upon the sizer's table, and one by one select and deposit in the proper boxes provided for them the leaves of corresponding size. To begin with, this is a slow process, and then the sizers are often inclined to slight their work by seizing bunch of leaves, pulling out the longest, and dropping the rest into a box without further sizing. This difficulty arose from the fact that the sizers were paid by the pound.

The Machine

Mr. Stanton's machine is ten feet long, three feet wide and five feet high. It is arranged for eight different sizes, ranging in length from ten to thirty-six inches, although most leaves do not run over thirty-two inches. The leaves are fed from a table, the stem end of the leaf being placed close to one side of the table and crosswise. The leaf is caught by tapes and run over rollers and carried along to a point where the longest leaf is parted from its fellows by being caught in the tapes running farthest from the center of the machine, carried up over sets of rollers and deposited in the box designed for it. The next size of leaf does not reach the outer tape, and passes on until it strikes the point where it fits the tape that will turn it upward toward the proper receiving box, and thus each leaf passes on until it reaches the box designed for leaves of its particular length. So nicely are the several parts of the machine constructed, and so well adjusted, that it handles the most delicate shade grown leaves without the slightest injury to them. There is no possibility of a leaf getting into the wrong box, and after a little experience the operator can feed the machine very rapidly. It is estimated that after learning the work, a boy or girl can operate the machine and accomplish the work of six men employed in the usual process.

Decrease Work

Experts are of the opinion that Mr. Stanton's machine will also effect the work of sorting, and that with this machine in use the leaves will be sized before they are sorted. The same grades of leaves usually grow in the same relative positions upon the stems and are accordingly of practically of the same length, so that in sizing the different grades are separated, as well as the different sizes. No principle has heretofore been applied to the business. The machine can be manufactured for $50. The frame as constructed by Mr. Stanton is of pine, the rollers of birch, the tapes are of calendered web inches wide, similar to that used in paper mills, and a bed of felt eighteen inches wide runs the entire length of the machine at the bottom. Mr. Stanton has recently returned from Suffolk, Ct., where the machine has been set up, and he has spent the past two months experimenting with it and getting it in running order. It is at O. E. Pitchers on East street in Suffolk, and the practical test of what can be accomplished by it will probably be made next week, when Mr. Stanton intends to go to Suffolk and have it in operation, and handle the crop of some big warehouses there. A government inspector and expert has spent considerable time in examination of the sizing machine, and pronounces it an exceedingly valuable invention for the tobacco growers. It has not yet been decided what method will be pursued in putting the machine upon the market. Mr. Stanton has been working on the idea that has finally been successfully evolved during the past two years, and constructed six different patterns before he got one that worked as he desired.

An Eldly Man

Mr. Stanton is a man 50 years of age and has had an interesting career in the paper business. He learned the trade of paper making in the Greenleaf & Taylor mill at Huntington, serving an apprenticeship of seven years in which he learned every part of the work. He was in the Southworth mill eight years, at the Agawam seven, at the Worthington eight and at the Freshing Hamps...re company eight months. His career in the paper business was cut short by an accident several years ago in which his legs were crushed and he became a cripple. In his misfortune he has never been idle. Mr. Stanton had worked out as his first invention a ruling machine when in the Southworth mill, but immediately after perfecting found that another inventor had got the start of him and had already patented a machine identical in design. A machine for ironing shirts was next patented by Mr. Stanton and proved quite successful. This he later sold. Later he made a folding piano stool adjustable for the use of either one or two persons.

Timber Tests of Native Trees.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The scope of work of the Bureau of Forestry has been considerably broadened by the recent creation of the Division of Forest Products, of which Frederick E. Olmsted has been appointed chief.

A series of strength tests of timber will be made in collaboration with the Bureau of Chemistry. Western timbers of whose strength no exact knowledge has been obtained, will receive special attention. The Bureau of Forestry has bought a Riehle testing machine powerful enough to try the cross-breaking strength of a tough beam 12 by 12 inches, 16 feet long. The machine's capacity is 200,000 pounds, and it is fitted with an autographic and automatic attachment. Tests are now being made of timbers the size used in heavy construction work. At present, the timber used is bought in the market. Later, tests will be made of timber sawed from trees selected from the

WITH THE ATHLETES

Next Saturday the High school plays Brodhead at Athletic park. The visiting team has already played Evansville a tie game and are said to be a beefy aggregation. That Michigan's defense this year is deplorably weak in places is clearly shown by the way in which Capt. Salmon of Notre Dame plunged for long runs on the same sloppy field where Michigan runners complained of being unable to secure a footing.

At the end of the season on the links, it has been found that Kenosha won more honors this year than all of the other golf clubs in the state put together.

Coch Stagg considered his defense strongly enough developed to warrant his directing his labors in other directions. A fast defense will be the next aim.

Iowa state university coaches expressed themselves as absolutely satisfied with the showing that the men have made this week. Last night the 'varsity' went four times the length of the field against the reserves.

Beloit will probably play the Oshkosh state normal school team on Saturday at the Line City.

An amendment has been made in the English tennis rules which provides that the server shall stand with both feet behind the base line, instead of with one in front as formerly.

Last night Coach Kling shifted Juncos back to half back, and Bush was put in at right end for the Badgers. It is understood that this combination will be given a long and thorough trial before it is abandoned.

We sat at the table together.

She cast a shy glance over at me. She certainly looked like an angel Oh, Charley! Please order me Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith's Pharmacy.

The Bureau of Forestry has bought a Riehle testing machine powerful enough to try the cross-breaking strength of a tough beam 12 by 12 inches, 16 feet long. The machine's capacity is 200,000 pounds, and it is fitted with an autographic and automatic attachment. Tests are now being made of timbers the size used in heavy construction work. At present, the timber used is bought in the market. Later, tests will be made of timber sawed from trees selected from the forest, in order to establish, if possible, the effect of different localities and conditions of growth on the quality and strength of wood.

Besides the cross-breaking tests, timber will be submitted to tests to learn their resistance to shear along the grain, and their compression strength parallel to the grain and at right angles to the grain. These tests will determine also the relation between the strength of the wood and the amount of moisture it contains. The timber will be carefully described and photographed, and a record will be kept of the characteristic defects of all species tested.

Stations will be established on the Pacific coast for timber tests, and use will be made of the Riehle testing machine of 150,000 pounds capacity that was installed this summer at the Yale Forest School.

WITH THE ATHLETES

Next Saturday the High school plays Brodhead at Athletic park. The visiting team has already played Evansville a tie game and are said to be a beefy aggregation.

That Michigan's defense this year is deplorably weak in places is clearly shown by the way in which Capt. Salmon of Notre Dame plunged for long runs on the same sloppy field where Michigan runners complained of being unable to secure a footing.

At the end of the season on the links, it has been found that Kenosha won more honors this year than all of the other golf clubs in the state put together.

Coch Stagg considered his defense strongly enough developed to warrant his directing his labors in other directions. A fast defense will be the next aim.

Iowa state university coaches expressed themselves as absolutely satisfied with the showing that the men have made this week. Last night the 'varsity' went four times the length of the field against the reserves.

Beloit will probably play the Oshkosh state normal school team on Saturday at the Line City.

An amendment has been made in the English tennis rules which provides that the server shall stand with both feet behind the base line, instead of with one in front as formerly.

Last night Coach Kling shifted Juncos back to half back, and Bush was put in at right end for the Badgers.

It is understood that this combination will be given a long and thorough trial before it is abandoned.

We sat at the table together.

HIS MAJESTY--THE SULTAN OF SULU

From the Philippines—His Royal Highness, with His Whole Company, Coming.

Janesville is indeed fortunate in having secured even one night of the time of the Sultan of Sulu, an extraordinary production. Their run at the Davidson in Milwaukee this week has been phenomenal and never before has the management of that house had to turn away so many people for lack of accommodations.

The Entire Company

Unlike the old time circus the Sultan of Sulu does not divide its forces and the company seen here on Tuesday night next will be identical with the one now in Milwaukee and will go from here by a circuitous route to New York City.

MAUDE LILLIAN BERRI, Prima Donnain George Ade's "Sultan of Sulu"

Maude Berri

One of the most charming of the stage women of today, Maude Berri, is with the company, having recently joined it after a six weeks' season in New York. Mr. Ade, the writer of the play, and Mr. Savage, the manager, sailed on Tuesday for Europe, where they will study costumes for the production of "Peggy from Paris," Mr. Ade's new play, that appears in December.

FATHER SHOOT'S HIS TWO SONS

Boys Had Resented Sire's Reproaches to Their Mother.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Angered by the interference of his two sons, Robert and Daniel, who objected to his talking roughly to their mother, John MacDonald, 61 years old, shot and seriously wounded both of the young men.

The father arrived home early in the evening in a quarrelsome mood. Later he entered his room, and it is said, began to reproach his wife, who was sewing in another room. He was requested to not talk so roughly by Robert, who was lying in the adjoining room. Angered at this request, the police say, he shot his son in the left side.

Daniel, the other son, who was in the kitchen at the time, heard the shot and ran to his father. He struggled with his aged parent and in the struggle two shots were fired, one taking effect in Daniel's abdomen and the other lodging in the wall.

PRESS COMMENT.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Despite denials there seems to be a good deal of truth in the reports that illegal deer hunting is going on in many counties in the northern part of the state.

At a coroner's inquest held at Phillips this week evidence was brought out to show that a man who had been mysteriously killed was the result of a gunshot accident while he was out hunting deer against the law, and two of his companions pleaded guilty to violating the game law and were glad to get off by the payment of the regulation fines.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Some people are bound to be hysterical in politics. The clamor about primary elections is one of the results, based upon fallacies, which should not deceive anybody. Because a demagogue has failed to get a nomination under the present convention system he denounces it and wants to substitute a machine of his own designing. The people are just as powerful under the convention system as they choose to be. If they attend to the business the results will be to their satisfaction. And if they neglect the primary election system others will carry their schemes through.

Milwaukee Journal: The unexpected has come about. The republican party is practically united in Wisconsin. Senators Spooner and Quarles went on the stump last night and argued for Governor La Follette and the whole republican ticket. So we now have the spectacle of these republican leaders pleading for the support of the stalwarts against the plea of Candidate Rice for the same element. Can there be any doubt as to whom the stalwarts will turn? Could anything more strongly illustrate the pitiful position in which the nominee of the Milwaukee convention is left, by attempting to hide the fact that he was at least the nominal candidate of the democratic party, and giving over his whole being to an effort to convince a faction of the republican party that he was really their man?

Fine Sarcasm.

"You, boy!" exclaimed the colored woman. "What is you gwinter do wif dat watermelon?"

The urethra looked surprised for a moment, then grieved and then scornful. Placing his burden of sweetness on the curbstone, he replied:

"I've gwinter git a can of 'vahnush an' 'vahnush' it. Den I've gwinter git a gubd of red ribbon an' tie the aronin' it an' hang it to the chandelier in de parlor for an ornament, so's we kin look at it an' enjoy ourse's while we's eatin' hardback!"—Washington Star.

LABOR CONDITIONS ABROAD

A marked reduction in the wages of England is reported in the Chamber of Commerce Journal, the official organ of the London Chamber of Commerce, a copy of which has just reached the Treasury Bureau of Statistics.

"There is a warning," it says, "to masters and men alike in the official report on the changes in rates of wages and hours of labor during 1901. It foreshadows a relapse from the prosperity of the last few years, a decline in wages having to be recorded for the first time since 1895. Moreover, during the first half of the present year, the tendency is still towards lower wages. The number of workpeople affected by reductions in 1901 was greater than any year in the period of 1893-1901, the computed amount of the reductions being more than the total reductions recorded in the previous eight years.

The era of prosperity that England has enjoyed for the past eight years, was inaugurated while this country was idle because of the free trade heresy introduced by the democratic party.

American mills by the hundred closed down, and an army of workmen was out of employment, while the old world furnished the products that we could not produce on account of cheap foreign labor.

By this time this nation was again on its feet, new markets opened up as the result of the South African war, and the ranks of labor were depleted by the army, until those that were left found steady employment. The war is over and thousands of soldiers returning are thrown onto the labor market, which was already fully supplied.

American labor has not only occasion to be contented, but it should rejoice in the fact that the outlook for plenty of work at good wages is still flattering. More or less complaint is made from time to time about the wage scale in this country. It may be of interest to compare American wages with the following table, compiled from the eighth annual "Abstract of Labor Statistics of the United Kingdom," recently issued by the British Board of Trade, which shows the standard rate of wages per week for various trades recognized in London at the beginning of 1902:

TRADES	Wages per Week
Upholsters.....	$12.96
Ship yard platers.....	11.67
Cabinet makers.....	11.34
Boiler shop platers.....	10.94
Plasterers.....	10.94
Bricklayers.....	10.50
Masons.....	10.50
Carpenters & Joiners.....	10.50
Pattern makers.....	10.45
Plumbers.....	10.34
Riveters.....	10.21
Shipwrights.....	10.21
French polishers.....	9.72
Lithographic printers.....	9.72
Iron Founders.....	9.72
Compositors (hand).....	9.48
Engineers.....	9.48
Painters.....	9.00
Brass moulders & furnishers.....	8.62
Bricklayers' & plasterers' labor.....	7.00

That little schedule is the whole argument in a nut shell. It is true that capital is making money. Why shouldn't it? Labor is also making money, and if any disposition to economize is displayed there is but little trouble in accumulating. The man who enjoys the advantages of American citizenship in the opening years of the new century has occasion to be thankful for the privilege.

POST CHECK CURRENCY

The object of the post check currency is to make the transmission of money in small amounts easier and safer than at present is the case. Bills of the small denominations would be issued with a blank space on the face for the name of the payee.

The scheme also includes fractional currency printed in the same way.

Instead of making a journey to the postoffice for a money order, or enclosing coin in his letter, with the possibility of its falling out or being stolen, the sender of money under the new system merely has to take a bill from his pocketbook fill it out and enclose it, just as if it was a bank check.

A large number of leading manufacturers and business men of the country are in favor of the new form of currency. Its creation would injure no one and would add to the facilities of trade for both seller and buyer. Congressmen should be asked to support it.

Citizens should request their representatives in congress to see that more convenient money is furnished the people.—Post Dispatch, St. Louis.

MY EDUCATIONAL CREED

The following creed of Karl Mathle, the democratic candidate for superintendent of schools, is so terse and practical that it is well worth reading and adopting by every educator.

"I believe in boys and girls,—and that real reform and progress rests in their education.

I believe in God and man,—and that God's purpose for man constitutes the course of study.

I believe in better wages for teachers,—but that freedom in teaching is more to be valued than fine gold, as it develops both manhood and method.

I believe in things practical,—as well as in things inspirational.

I believe in education through industry,—as well as in education for industry.

I believe in individuality,—but that the school must also develop the social nature into social service.

I believe in separating the schools from politics,—but in taking them out of the control of the people.

I believe that text books were made for schools,—and not schools for books.

I believe in every educational institution in our state,—and that the movements in progress to improve our rural schools should be encouraged.

I believe that our form of government rests upon general education,—and that upright, useful and intelligent citizenship will alone insure its perpetuity.

"Principles abide, but men and platform change." Senator Spooner is intensely republican, and the people who had the pleasure of listening to him last Tuesday night, realized that he was sacrificing prejudice to the great interests of the republican party. His vision takes in more than the boundaries of the state, and thoughtful republicans will recognize the importance of party success. La Folletteism will have its day, but the republican party will continue long after the fads of reform administration are exploded.

Congressman Cooper goes out of his way to say that the convention which nominated the governor was a "fair" convention. He was 1000 miles away at the time, and evidently didn't spend much time reading Wisconsin news. A convention which undertook to ride out of the party Senator Spooner, and one third of the delegates present may look fair in the distance. Its certainly required distance to lend any enchantment to the scene.

The spectacle of two senators at either end of the state, with the governor in the middle patting each other on the back, is a little amusing. The floor of the Madison convention at shore range would have been more effective.

The experiment of governing the governor, will be tried at the next session of the legislature, with better results than the last effort, which proved a dismal failure.

PRESS COMMENT.

Marquette Star: In about three days more Candidate Rose will thoroughly understand that there are other issues that transcend the game warden's.

Madison Journal: It is suspected that your "Uncle Ike" and Charley Pfister have a faint suspicion that perhaps after all, they have been holding the bag instead of bagging the game.

Madison Journal: Spooner did just what every man who knew him knew he would do, he urged warmly the support of the state ticket "from Governor La Follette down." Spooner's record as a congressman made it certain in advance that he would not countenance the bolting spirit.

Sheboygan Telegram: Senator Spooner's advice is that the republican ticket be voted from Governor La Follette down. This is the advice from a great statesman and republicans should note it. The republican party was never in greater need of voters who will vote the ticket straight than it is at the present time.

Marquette Eagle: The student of current events will recognize the logic there is in Spooner's demand that Wisconsin elect only republican congressmen this fall. The people want the president to carry out his ideas regarding the regulation of the trusts and to do that the republican majority in congress must be maintained. A democratic congressman will vote against all republican measures to prevent the party from receiving the credit for popular reforms. As Senator Spooner says it will not be safe to elect democrats to the house.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The hunting season will not open for more than a month yet, but the season for killing hunters seems to be in full blast. Already a number of fatalities have been reported, and yet every now and then some one rises to explain that the game laws are not being violated.

Madison Journal: It is reported that the state board of control will refuse to contract the labor of the inmates of the state prison unless a higher per diem figure than 50 cents is offered. Whatever may be the report of the board of control, its members will receive commendation from all quarters if they succeed in advancing the price of convict labor.

Fennimore Times: This is a queer campaign. Neither candidate for governor apparently believes that he has enough votes in his own party to elect him, so each looks to the opposition to secure a majority. Governor La Follette is making a strong bid for democratic votes and Mayor Rose for republican. It does really look if party lines were becoming obliterated.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: The action of President Roosevelt in attempting to settle a coal strike was both proper and timely. The right of any body of men to monopolize a necessary of life has never been conceded and has always been questioned. Therefore President Roosevelt did exactly what the republican party has always done—took up the great battle at the right time.

Racine Journal: In the coming election let no republican permit his ideas upon some matters of purely state issues interfere with his voting for Governor La Follette, and every candidate upon the state ticket. Votes must be cast straight if it is expected to make it absolutely sure of a republican congressional delegation and a republican United States senator. The republican party of Wisconsin must do its full duty.

Washburn Times: The Sentinel editor has too soon forgotten the "ides of July" and the Madison convention. It was proven then and there that there was not an inefficient game warden in the state of Wisconsin. We believe hats should come off to the game wardens. Of course, they might not have properly protected the game, but if not it is because they didn't have time to devote to that kind of work.

Keep Growing

As long as a merchant can keep his business on the increase by the use of advertising, just so long he should be willing to increase his advertising. When the business is at a standstill or in danger of going backward, it is time to stop to consider the whole scheme of business with a view to getting more and better returns, not alone from his advertising, but from his entire investment. There are times when a careful deterioration of the business and a careful seeking for the cause will do much to put the bad features in the background and put the other features in the fore. The business man should consider carefully the advantages he could claim for his store, and should be willing to tell about these advantages so persistently and enthusiastically that the people would soon learn and be convinced. People admire enthusiasm and are anxious to mingle with the enthusiastic. When a merchant with a business gets the opinion that he is doing all in his power to buy what the people want and to sell the goods at margins which will permit living profits, but which are not exorbitant, the buyers will come to look to the merchant for his daily talk on daily needs and will believe—if they have no reason for doubt. It pays the merchant to create the idea that his store is run for large volume of business at a narrow margin rather than to corral a large profit of sales. The growth of the business depends upon the treatment of customers, and the advantage is in the spreading of the store reputation so that many will enjoy the advantages of trading and be willing to tell their friends of the store and its attractions. Merit has the surest means for inducing business.—Advertising World.

IN THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Miss Belle Douglas
Funeral services for the late Miss Belle Douglas were held from the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Douglas, 55 North Franklin street, this afternoon at three o'clock. The home was filled with sorrowing friends and the words of consolation were spoken by the Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, pastor of the Baptist church. The song service was beautifully rendered by Miss Elizabeth Palmer and J. S. Taylor. The white casket which held the precious remains was hidden under a wealth of beautiful roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and English violets. The floral tributes were especially beautiful and included a pillow from the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church, of which deceased was a member, a spray of pink roses from the Parker Pen Co., by whom the bereaved brother is employed, and a large design from the employees of the Parker Pen company.

The burial took place at Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers being Percy Merrill, Harry Lawless, Verne Mordock, Piny Wilbur, Walter Flaherty and Ben Marksman.

IT WAS SIMPLY A PIPE DREAM

MRS. SIEVERT ADMITS NO SUCH MAN EXISTED.

ORDERED FUNERAL FLOWERS

Confesses, When Cornered by Chief of Police Hogan and Others,
That It Was a Lie.

After a severe cross questioning yesterday Mrs. Frank Sievert confessed to Chief Hogan that her story of Harry Plumwick's death was a monumental fabrication. No such man had ever been in this city, and the hold-up, and fatal injuries were equally mythical. It was only after a long and tedious examination that she made this admission, insisting firmly that the man had died, and offering to show the house where he lived.

Her first weakening came when she explained that she had taken the death notice to the Recorder at the wish of Smith, the fictitious neighbor of Plumwick who had found the man on the night that he was assaulted. She found it difficult to explain how a man living almost at the city limits on Milton avenue, should go to Monterey, a mile beyond the Recorder's office to ask her to take the notice there.

Pleading Guilty
When she was told that the matter had gone to the point where it came within the domain of the law and that she would be the person to suffer if there had been any misrepresentation, she told the truth, admitting that the whole story was a fake from start to finish.

While the sensational murder story had a "fishy" flavor from the outset, the woman's insistence on all the details was so positive that it was strong enough to shake anyone's faith. The man could not be found but every other detail was perfect.

Perhaps Deceived Herself
This story must have originated in the woman's inner consciousness many weeks ago, and she continued to brood over it until she may have deceived herself at times. She was always careful to say that she had heard the details from another, and this enabled her to suppress names, and other facts bearing on the situation.

Some weeks ago the woman gave an order to P. H. Dulin to move Plumwick's household goods from the house where he was then living on Milton avenue to her home. She did not give the exact location of the house, but said that she would tell that when the work was to be done. Shortly after the time when she says the hold-up was committed she went to Dulin and said that the man had been assaulted by highwaymen and could not be moved.

Ordered Funeral Decorations
An order was left at the Main street greenhouses a few days ago for flowers for the funeral, and in every way she appeared to be making preparations for the funeral. When asked by the Chief at what time the funeral was to take place she replied that she had just gone to the depot in the expectation that the body was to be shipped on that train, and was greatly surprised that the remains were not there.

No Motive Given
Mrs. Sievert gave no motive for the story and when District Attorney Jackson and the Chief again visited the house in the evening and saw the husband he was able to throw no light on the subject.

CHURCH WEDDINGS HELD YESTERDAY

Two Couples of Well Known Young People Were Married at St. Patrick's Church.

Miss Josephine A. Welch and Maurice J. Leahy, both well-known young people of this city, were happily married yesterday morning, the ceremony being celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 7:30 o'clock. Nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Dean E. M. McGinnity in the presence of many relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Miss Mae McCarthy, cousin of the bride, officiated as bridesmaid and the groom was attended by his brother, J. J. Leahy, of Milwaukee.

After the ceremony an elegant wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch, 552 Pleasant street. The home was beautifully decorated with choice cut flowers and the breakfast was an elaborate one. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were guests.

Both the bride and groom have a large circle of friends in this city where both are held in high esteem. The bride has been one of the most popular salesladies in T. P. Burns' drygoods store and the groom is a conductor, being one of the valued employees of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company. Mr. and Mrs. Leahy left last evening on the 7:10 train for Chicago where they will make their future home.

Reidy-Sweeney
St. Patrick's church was the scene of the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Mary Reidy, of Chicago, and John J. Sweeney of this city. Rev. James McGinnity was the officiating clergyman and the service was held yesterday morning at 8:15 o'clock. The happy young people were attended by Miss Maud S. Sweeney and Thomas A. Reidy. Heart congratulations will be extended by them any friends of the bride and groom.

CHICAGO VICTIM NOT KNOWN HERE

GUS BRETZKE, NOW IN JAIL
THERE, CLAIMS JANESVILLE.

NEVER WAS A MASON 'HERE

The Only Man of His Name Lives Near Magnolia, and Is a Farmer.

From a story printed in a Chicago morning paper of a sensational nature, a man giving his name as Gus Bretzke and his home as Janesville had been sent to the Bridewell to work out an $85 fine simply because he had been robbed and the police resented his action in reporting.

Claimed Janesville
Bretzke claimed that he had been employed as foreman of bricklayers in Janesville but a careful search among the contractors of the city failed to find the man's name registered. Secretary Louis Hogan of the bricklayers' union said that no man of that name had ever taken out a card to work here for many years back.

May Be A Farmer
A search through the county book shows that near Magnolia there is a farmer named August Bretzke, but inquiries at McCoy's store at Magnolia show that this man can not be the one meant as he is at home at present.

Claimed Bad Usage
Bretzke's story was that he went to Chicago and was robbed by a man in a Clark street saloon and when he reported to the police he was sentenced to the Bridewell to work out a six months' sentence on the charge of disorderly conduct. Mr. Morris Cummings, of Dearborn Avenue, found Bretzke in the Bridewell and heard his story and made it public. It is said that an investigation will follow on the police methods of convictions at Harrison street police court.

BY THE LIGHT OF JACK O' LANTERNS

A COMPANY OF YOUNG LADIES HAVE MERRYTIME

AS MISS CUMMINGS' GUESTS

The Party Was Given as a Farewell, in Honor of Miss Alice Cousens.

By the subdued light from grinning Jack-o'-lanterns, conspicuously displayed in the parlors of Miss Eloise Cummings, 54 Park avenue, a small company of young ladies spent last evening in a very merry fashion. Miss Cummings was the charming hostess and Miss Alice Cousens, who is soon to remove to Chicago to reside, was the guest of honor.

Those who enjoyed the evening together were the young ladies who have been Miss Cousens' classmates in the Sunday school of the First M. E. church. They have been close personal friends, enjoying many social gatherings in each other's company and they regret sincerely the departure from the city of one of the members of their circle.

A Jolly Company
This regret, however, was not permitted to cast any shadow over their last evening together and Miss Cousens' farewell party was a very happy one. The evening passed swiftly with music and various games and during the evening the hostess served delicious refreshments. Several flashlight pictures of the company were taken by Lewis Rider and they will be highly prized souvenirs of the occasion. Miss Cummings was also presented with a handsome souvenir spoon, bearing an engraving of the High school building in its gold bowl, as a token of the affection of her young friends.

Those Present
Those who enjoyed the pleasures of last evening together were Mrs. George F. Clark and the Misses Pearl Hall, Mabel Woodman, Myrtle Hayner, Helen McChesney, Alice Cousens and Elsie Cummings.

KNOX TO PREPARE
ANTI-TRUST BILL

FORECAST OF ANNUAL MESSAGE

Chief Executive Will Urge That Legislation Against Trusts Be Given the Preference Over All Other Matters, Including Ship Subsidy.

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Roosevelt has begun the preparation of his second annual message to congress. It can be said on good authority that he is determined to force legislation upon the anti-trust question in the next session of congress, his determination in that direction being carried to such an extent that all other topics of national interest will be subordinated to the anti-trust question.

When congress meets, on December 1, an anti-trust bill, prepared by Attorney General Knox, will be introduced before the first day's adjournment. The attorney general has given close study and long research to the preparation of the bill, and it is said to be both comprehensive in character and effective in reaching illegal combinations of capital, which work for the restraint of trade and the ruin of competition.

Will Have Right of Way. The President and his advisers are agreed that the trust question is the paramount issue with the people of the country, and that it will be for the best interests of the Republican party to meet this issue and dispose of it at the earliest possible moment.

As this will be the short session of congress, with final adjournment on March 4, there will not be time for the consideration of many important questions besides those of the annual appropriation bills. It is probable, in fact, that the anti-trust act, in being allotted the right of way, will preclude action on other pending questions, such as the question of reciprocity and the ship subsidy.

It is understood that the proposed anti-trust legislation will not be in the nature of an amendment to the Federal constitution, but rather an improved and revised act strengthening the efficiency of the Sherman anti-trust law.

To Sidetrack Cuba. As regards Cuban reciprocity, many of the President's advisers have lost interest in its enactment. They point to the fact that Cuba has not shown zealous regard for this country's interests in the island, nor has it manifested an overfriendly disposition to extend our trade relations with it.

It is understood also, that the President in his annual message will recommend the appointment of an expert tariff commissioner to consider and report on the question of what reductions, if any, should be made in the tariff schedules. It is not likely that this question will be carried farther in the next session than the appointment of this proposed commission.

An attempt will be made, according to the prediction of certain politicians, to enact the Fowler currency bill. The demand for this legislation has increased by virtue of the recent money stringency, and the attempts of the Secretary of the Treasury to meet the demand.

No Ship Subsidy. Ship subsidy, it is believed, will not be pushed in the coming session. Its adherents are still keeping up hope of its eventual enactment, but indications are that further consideration of it will have to go over to the Fifty-Eighth Congress.

The President will bend all his energy toward getting anti-trust legislation. It is expected that cabal in the Senate will attempt to obstruct the passage of the bill, but public opinion is depended on to convince these men that they would better yield to sensible, conservative legislation, than to try to defer it and thus increase public indignation against them and the interests they represent.

ROBBERS PREY ON A JEWELER

Newark Man Gets More Than His Share of Visits from Burglars.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 23.—Jeweler George A. Scheller wants thieves and burglars to distribute their patronage more evenly. Some one smashed his plate-glass window and grabbed a handful of diamond brooches and pins valued at $500. He has been robbed fourteen times in fifteen years and not less than seven thieves are serving sentences in state prison for the robberies.

Dies at 106. New York, Oct. 23.—Simon Raphael, believed to be the oldest man in New York, is dead at the age of 106 years. He was born in Russia and is survived by a son, six daughters, forty-five grandchildren and twenty-eight great-grandchildren.

Freight Sheds Burn. Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Fire destroyed the freight sheds of the Union Steamboat company on Marine slip, near the foot of Michigan street. The total loss is estimated at $75,000.

Innovation in Berlin. Berlin has its first female barbers—the wife and daughter of a hair-dresser. In Bohemia, Hungary and Scandinavia there are many women barbers.

Increase of Perjury Noted. The statement comes from New Jersey that since the law requiring witnesses to kiss the Bible when taking an oath was repealed, perjury has increased to a marked degree.

PAJAMAS A LA MODE.

Ideal Lounging Garb For the Slender, Sweet Young Woman.

Whether or not men are to be blamed for suggesting the idea is a difficult point to settle, but the fact has suddenly come to light that bifurcated apparel is by no means unusual among up to date young women, according to the New York Herald, which has the following to say about the fad:

So far it is confined exclusively to garments intended for the hours devoted to gentle sleep, and there is no reason to believe that the fashion will extend beyond the walls of millinery, dainty boudoir. But feminine pajamas have met with great success already. True, pajamas cannot be called particularly attractive looking apparel, especially when worn by stout women. The jaunty trousers and coats render she looks as pretty as she can, such creatures far from being visions of beauty. A slender, sweet figure, on the contrary, lends rather a chic air to this somewhat ungraceful style.

For lounging and genuine comfort there is nothing more fitting than pajamas. If they are cool and thin. Of course there are some fair creatures who wouldn't for the world exchange their dainty lace and ribbon trimmed garments for the prettiest pajamas made, and they are very sensible to stick to their feminine fripperies.

By no means is it essential that pajamas should be homely garments. In their way they may be as quality pretty as the most elaborate night robe. The curious little Chinese loops and cords that have always been a characteristic of men's pajamas are in the latest models dispensed with entirely, and in their place are used large flat pearl buttons. Not even the soft neck finish in the form of an ordinary collar has been deemed desirable on the new apparel. Another noticeable difference is seen in the sides of the coat. There are no slits, and the necessary spring is secured by curving the seam.

While the new feminine pajama trousers are apparently cut exactly like a man's, they really are sloped in over the hips in order to do away with any unnecessary fullness. A fancy tape is supplied for drawing them up around the waist. Quite the quaintest feature in the new pajamas was presented in the trim trouser legs. These are sufficiently loose and long to be comfortable, and around the extreme bottom is a fold of the white fabric that rolls up in a very quaint, mannish fashion.

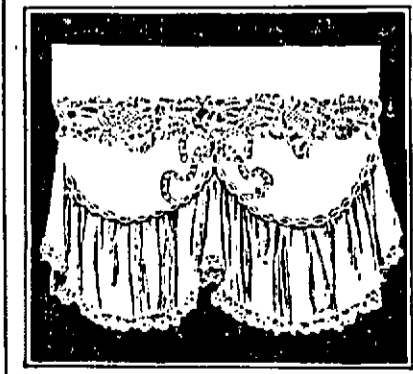

The jaunty little rolls make the feet seem all the smaller, and the chic bedroom slippers are much more fascinating when peeping from beneath this enveloping fold.

Silk garments are very popular for summer wear, and pale blue, dainty blue and soft yellow silken pajama suits are fetching enough to win over a prejudicial person.

Pajamas will never be universally worn, for the reason that all women do not find the fashion possible. It promises, nevertheless, to become an immensely popular fad, and among those with whom it has already found favor may be mentioned college girls.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW SHADES.

Window shades have generally been regarded as useful but rather unattractive articles, but even these are now made beautiful after the manner shown in

SHADE WITH BONNE FEMME FLOUNCE. the cut, where a "bonne femme" flounce of muslin edged with fern lace, below an effective border of applique on net, adds grace to outlines that would otherwise be severe.

In the Bedroom. Hemstitched borders are the fashion for pillowcases.

No pillows in the daytime, but a round bolster to match the counterpane, is one of the modes in bed-making.

Blue and white barred gingham makes pretty and practical bedroom drapery.

Lavender scented sheets and pillow-slips are an old time delight revived. Delicately scented bed linen has a distinctly popular effect, besides being soothing to the nerves.

DEMAND PAY FOR KEELEY CURE

State of Wisconsin Asked to Settle $59,000 in Claims.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—An alternative writ of mandamus has been granted by the supreme court, the purpose of the petitioner being to compel Secretary of State Froehlich to pay the Keeley cure claims, provision for which was made by the last legislature. This act, however, is unconstitutional, in the opinion of Attorney General Hicks, and under this opinion the secretary of state refuses to draw warrants for the claims. The action is instituted by Jacob Gassett of Eau Claire, who holds $815 of the claims, but it is a test case which covers the entire claims, which aggregate about $59,000. The writ is made returnable Dec. 2. The legislature years ago passed a law providing for the cure of inebriates by the Keeley process at public expense. This law was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court and the claims now contested are the result.

GERMANY WINS IN SAMOAN CASE

King Oscar Decides Against the United States and Britain.

London, Oct. 23.—King Oscar of Sweden and Norway has decided the Samoan controversy in favor of Germany.

As the United States and Great Britain were confident that they would have no difficulty in establishing the legality of the joint landing of marines at Apia in 1899, the result of the royal arbitration is a great disappointment.

The full scope of the arbitral decree of King Oscar is not yet divulged, and the extent to which it covers the claims for damages filed by the citizens of the three countries and of France may not be known for several days.

WANTS MONEY SPENT ON GIRL

Rejected Suitor Seeks to Recover From Woman's Husband.

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 23.—George Gronberg of Chicago has placed in the hands of an attorney here a claim for $105, for money expended for the benefit of Miss Della Wahl, to whom he was engaged to be married a month ago. The young woman a few days before the time appointed for her marriage to Gronberg eloped with Theodore I. Swan. The attorney has presented the claim to the young woman's husband and has an assurance of a settlement.

Janesville Citizens Gladly Testify.

It is testimony like the following that has placed "the old Quaker remedy," so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Janesville citizen:

Mr. L. Lawrence of 408 S. Franklin St. engineer at the Janesville Electric Co., says: "Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton into the rock River I was on a traction engine. Its weight broke through and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting the result was a bad back ache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney pills at the People's Drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

MINE STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

NONUNIONISTS LEAVE THE PITS

New Men Resign of Their Own Accord and Depart for Other Fields—Engineers and Firemen Likely to Get Old Places.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 23.—Strikers rushed back to the mines, and the mine managers declared the coal output will be large enough to relieve all parts of the country before severe weather sets in.

The coal shortage is estimated at from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 tons, and it will take two years of steady work to bring the supply back to normal conditions.

Returns from the field show that hardly more than 75,000 men will return to work because of the condition of many of the mines, due to the long months of idleness. In the Wilkesbarre district there are collieries that are completely drowned out, such as the Blackman and Stanton.

Must Clean Mines.

In many mines gangways that are just as they were when the men threw down their picks must be cleaned up. The passageways must be tested for gas, for the records show that with the opening up of the collieries long closed there is danger to life and limb, and to avoid this as far as possible every precaution is taken, which means delay in many cases.

Rapid progress is being made by all the companies toward a general resumption of mining.

The question of the employment of nonunion men, which at one time threatened to become a serious obstacle in the way of settlement, is likely to adjust itself.

Quit Their Jobs.

All over the district, from many collieries, comes the story that the nonunion men left voluntarily in large numbers. Inside of a week it will be hard to find any considerable number in the anthracite field.

The engineers, firemen and pumpmen will be a cause of friction for some time to come, although it is believed this trouble, too, will adjust itself in time.

The general experience with this class of colliery employees was a refusal of the company superintendent to restate them when they applied for work. Some mineworkers blame the men themselves for the summary rejection of their applications for work. They say some of the steam men, in their anxiety to test whether or not the no discrimination policy would include them, rushed to the collieries as soon as the convention had formally declared the strike off.

Patience Will Win.

The superintendents and bosses were still smarting from the feeling of anger which the desertion of these employees had aroused, and the time for application was considered inopportune.

The hoisting engineers will have no trouble in getting work. The miners will refuse to go down the shaft and trust their lives to men whom they do not consider competent. The removal of the objectionable employees will follow. It is the general impression that if the steam men will only exercise a little patience the great majority will recover their old places. The returns show a greater number taken back than had been anticipated.

No Discrimination.

All was bustle and activity about the collieries. The coal companies conveyed the assurance to their old employees that there would be no discrimination and that every man who applies will be put to work and all given their old positions as far as possible.

There is an evident desire to do nothing to cause any bitterness. Every one available will be put to work, for the companies are anxious to get coal on the market as soon as possible, as the first comers will secure the cream of the trade. Where minor grievances exist they will be adjusted without waiting for the sittings of the arbitration commission.

Hold Celebrations.

Most of the schools and business places in this section were closed to allow the children to attend the miners' jubilee at Minersville. A mass meeting of 6,000 persons was addressed by Judge Dunn, ex-Congressman Brumm and Father Gorman of St. Vincent de Paul's church.

There were parades and jollifications at Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Mount Carmel and other points in celebration of the strike's end. In the Shenandoah parade fully 1,200 men were in line.

Refuses to Plead.

New York, Oct. 23.—William Hooper Young, accused of the murder of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, was arranged before Judge Cowling. On the advice of his counsel the prisoner did not plead and Judge Cowling ordered that a plea of not guilty be entered.

Eminent Swiss Dies.

Berne, Switzerland, Oct. 23.—Former President Hauser died as the result of a paralytic stroke. He had been head of the finance department in recent years.

Doctor Shoots Laborer.

PYTHIANS PICK NEW OFFICERS

General James H. Barkley of Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23.—The second day of the annual convocation of Knights of Pythias resulted in a spirited contest for the offices. The following were chosen: Grand master, Gen. James H. Barkley, Springfield; grand vice chancellor, William C. Edens, Chicago; grand prelate, James G. Whiting, Canton; grand master of exchequer, Midland F. Dunlap, Jacksonville; grand master of records and seals, Harry P. Caldwell; grand inner guard, Levin D. Cass, Danville; grand outer guard, Louis C. Hay, Bloomington; grand master at arms, Frank C. Smith, East St. Louis.

The fight was for the selection of grand outer guard, for which there were seven candidates at the finish. Louis C. Hay was chosen on the fourth ballot and is therefore in line for the chancellorship.

CROP OF APPLES IS IMMENSE

Trees This Year Produce 16,000,000 Barrels More Than Last.

Boston, Oct. 23.—According to the estimate of the correspondent of the New England Homestead, the apple crop throughout the country this year will be 43,000,000 barrels, against 27,000,000 barrels in 1901. In the old orchard sections of the middle and eastern states the increase after last year's failure is pronounced. In the central west there are also sharp gains, while in the southwest a territory last year favored by exceptionally good yields, the crop this season is deficient. As for quality, it is far from satisfactory in the central and western states, but in New England is very much better.

DROPS DEAD WHEN WRIT IS READ

Summons to Testify Before Coroner's Jury Has Fatal Effect.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Richard Sanders of Linden, daughter of George D. Nichols who was instantly killed at his daughter's house by falling into the cellar, dropped dead immediately after an officer from this city had served a summons upon her to testify at the inquest. Immediately after the death of Nichols became known there were suspicions that he had met with foul play. It was alleged that Nichols had considerable money upon his person when he left to visit his son-in-law and none was found upon the body.

MRS. SCHLEY IS SEVERELY ILL

Wife of the Admiral Threatened With Pneumonia.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 23.—Admiral Schley's departure for San Antonio has been postponed owing to the continued illness of Mrs. Schley, who went to a hotel immediately upon the arrival of the party. When she left the east Mrs. Schley was threatened with pneumonia and is still too weak to participate in any of the festivities attending upon her husband's welcome. The admiral received an enthusiastic reception here and was given a banquet.

Prepares for Suicide.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 23.—After disposing of his personal property to his favorite children and telling his daughter the time and place where his dead body would be found, George Parsons, a farmer, set an alarm clock and went to bed. His dead body was found swinging in an apple tree as he described.

Favors Sugar Bounty.

London, Oct. 23.—At a meeting of manufacturers connected with the sugar industry a resolution was passed protesting against the ratification of the Brussels sugar convention on the ground that the abolition of the bounties on sugar increased the price of the article.

Standard Oil Buys Gas.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 23.—The Standard Oil company has closed a deal with the owners of the Wheeling Natural Gas company by which the Standard will take control. The price paid is said to have been $2,500,000.

BOERS INVESTIGATING MEXICO

Mexico City, Oct. 23.—Gen. Snyman, late of the Boer army, and Marshall Bond of New York, who are here investigating the suitability of Mexico for the settlement of Boer colonists, are pleased with the reception by the citizens as well as by the government. They have had an interview with Finance Minister Limantour and will travel in several states examining lands. The British subjects here resident have shown generous hospitality to the Boer general.

Silver Declines.

Manila, Oct. 23.—The decline in silver has forced the insular government to advance the rate of exchange on a gold dollar from $2.40 to $2.46 in silver. This new rate means increased losses to the government and other holders of Mexican dollars.

Rob Three Safes.

Belgrade, Neb., Oct. 23.—Safe blowers wrecked three safes, securing $200 at the Union Pacific depot, $125 at the postoffice and $160 at Cooley's lumber yard. The interiors of the postoffice and depot are wrecks.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—Three men were killed and several injured by the falling of a girder in the bridge and construction department of the Pennsylvania Steel works at Steelton, Pa.

DANES DECLINE TO SELL ISLANDS

ACTION MAY NOT SETTLE CASE

Matter May Be Taken Up at Later Date and Decision Is Likely to Be in Favor of Parting With American Possessions.

Copenhagen, Oct. 23.—The lands thing, the upper house of the rigsdag, has refused to ratify the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. The vote was a tie—32 to 32. The result of the vote was doubtful until the last moment. One member had not taken a definite stand and it was uncertain whether two sick members would be able to attend. The ages of these men, Thygeson and Raaben, are 97 and 87 years, respectively. Both had been expected to die for several weeks past; they were both bedridden at their homes, 150 miles from Copenhagen but they were brought in the city.

Invalids Vote.

Prominent anti-sale political leaders were sent to transport them here. The sufferers were accompanied by physicians. The two old men were guarded and nursed over night, and were eventually carried to their chairs in the landsting hall an hour before the meeting. They had a prompter on hand to assist them in voting.

After the landsting had voted not to agree to the session the ministers held a consultation and resolved not to resign. They also decided to send a commission to the West Indies to ascertain what steps were necessary to relieve the present economical distress on the Danish islands there.

Cheer America's Defeat.

The members who were opposed to the sale and their followers in the galleries vociferously cheered the announcement of the result of the division.

The sale of the islands was approved by the lower house of the last parliament, but the landsting rejected the treaty. In June of this year Denmark and the United States agreed to extend the time for the ratification of the treaty for one year. Meanwhile a new parliament was elected, and it was thought that there was a safe majority of two or three in favor of the sale in the upper house. The lower house was always overwhelmingly in favor of the sale. Within the last day or two, however, it has been stated that several members had changed their positions on the subject and that the fate of the treaty was in doubt.

People Want to Sell.

The rigsdag, or diet, comprises the landsting, or upper house, and the folketing. The latter is a house of commons. The landsting is composed of sixty-six members, twelve of whom are nominated for life by the crown. The choice of the other fifty-four members is given to electoral bodies. The right of making or amending laws is vested in the rigsdag in conjunction with the sovereign.

The predominant sentiment throughout Denmark is undoubtedly pro-sale, and the rejection of the treaty is attributed chiefly to a domestic political effort to embarrass the government and bring about the resignation of the ministry. The question of the sale of the islands may not remain dead for any length of time.

USE DYNAMITE TO FIGHT FIRE

Buildings Blown Up at Mass City to Stop Conflagration.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 23.—Fire which originated from the explosion of gasoline in a tailor shop destroyed the business section of Mass City. The flames spread so rapidly that the firemen and citizens were compelled to blow up several buildings with dynamite to prevent further spread of the conflagration. Little wind was blowing, else the loss might have been greater. The estimated loss is $50,000. Looting was prevalent, but the police arrested several thieves before they could get much of value.

WOMAN VICTIM OF ATTACK DIES

Mysterious Assault at Washington Remains Unsolved.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the victim of the mysterious assault which has baffled the local detectives since December 10 last, is dead from the result of terrible injuries she received on that date. All efforts to find the person who attacked Mrs. Dennis proved unavailing, and as she never fully regained consciousness she was unable to aid them in the search.

Six Drown.

Willemstad, Curacao, Oct. 23.—Capt. Salck of the Hamburg-American steamship Valescia, the chief engineer and four seamen have been drowned here.

Cured of Asthma After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who writes: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of your drug and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues." Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. H. Schiffmann, Box 591, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

Young Mothers

Stand in special need of help while the baby is being nursed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only strengthens the woman for motherhood and makes the birth hour practically painless, but it increases the nutritive secretions on which the child is fed. It soothes the nerves, encourages the appetite and rapidly restores the mother to robust health. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"I wish to let you know the great benefit my wife derived through taking your 'Favorite Prescription,' writes Mr. Robert Harden of London, Manitoba, Box 216. 'It was a case of child birth. We had heard so much of it that my wife decided to try it. (I may say my wife is thirty-three and this was her first child.) She commenced to take 'Favorite Prescription' five months before her child was born. We have a fine, healthy girl, and we believe that this was mainly owing to the 'Favorite Prescription' taken faithfully according to directions. We shall certainly recommend it wherever we can."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets put the bowels in a healthy condition.

Easy to Polish a Stove.

Easily Applied—No Odor—No Dirt.

To polish a stove like peppering a beefsteak may seem odd to those who have never used Sifter Stove Polish, but nevertheless, it is the newest, easiest and most convenient method known. Sifter Stove Polish is put up in a large, round box with a perforated top similar to a pepper box. The polish never drips out and does not require soaking in water before using. There is never any waste. It is good to the last pinch. It is gently sifted on the stove, brushed with a damp cloth and lightly rubbed with a dry cloth. A brilliant, jet black lustre is obtained. There is no odor, no dirty saucers or pans, no rusty boxes to cover. The Sifter box is always clean. Sifter Stove Polish is cheap. It costs 6 cents a box, will polish more stoves than three times its cost in any other polish. All dealers.

WOULD WRESTLE TERRIBLE TURK

Henry Boisjoly Wants to Meet Any Old Wrestler—Comes from Canada.

Henry Boisjoly, a French-Canadian wrestler is in the city in the hope of arranging for a match with any wrestler who cares to meet him. You see, the "Terrible Turk" is the man whom he is most anxious to meet, as he has heard that the Turk is the equal of any wrestler in this part of the state, and is of nearly his own weight.

Champion of Canada
Boisjoly weighs about one hundred and ninety in fighting trim, and while not as tall as the Turk, is built on a massive scale. He claims the heavy weight catch-as-catch-can championship of Canada. It is his wish now to extend a challenge to any wrestler who may wish to meet him, regardless of differences in weight or height, although he prefers a man neither much lighter or heavier than himself.

Seeks A Match
He will remain in this city for about a week. When he first came it was with the hope of being able to do some work in connection with the Y. M. C. A., but he soon learned that wrestling is not sanctioned by the local association. As there is no athletic club in the city, he despairs of being able to accomplish much unless some individuals interest themselves in a contest.

Doubtless a match between Yousser and Boisjoly would attract great attention, and offer a much closer match than that between Schott and the Turk did. There is not the same disparity in their weights, and if the Frenchman is able to hold his own against the other man, the contest would be worthy of a large patronage from the sports of this region.

Goes To Minnesota
Boisjoly expects to go from this city to the north of Minnesota and Winnipeg, in that French-Canadian region where wrestling receives a much more hearty patronage than it does here. He has done most of his wrestling in the past in Canada and among men of his own nationality he feels more at home, although he is anxious to meet a worthy opponent anywhere.

He is so confident of his own success that he prefers that the agreement be that the winner should take the entire purse although he is willing to make a different match to obtain a bout.

JUSTICE REEDER DEALS OUT LAW

Renders Five Judgments at Yesterday's Session of His Court.

C. W. Reeder dealt out five judgments in his justice of the peace court yesterday, all of them being in favor of J. F. Spoon & Co., on bills owed them by different parties. The amounts against the different persons were George Harrington, $11.36; William Evans, $12.76; Frank Schawback, $11.01; A. A. Gilling, $8.01; H. W. Smith, $9.61. The case against W. H. Parker was dismissed when it was discovered that the action should have been against J. H. Parker, who has left the city.

In Justice Earle's
In Justice Earle's court today the case of Philip Ledzinski against Anton Lapka was dismissed upon notice from the attorneys that it had been settled out of court, and the same action was taken in regard to that of Frank B. Farnsworth vs. J. W. Carroll. The case of E. A. Kammerer against W. B. Schuck was adjourned to Jan. 15.

CARELESS HUNTERS AT SPRING BROOK

Shots Do Damage to Many Homes and Endanger the Lives of Residents.

According to a Spring Brook resident he and several of his neighbors will erect a bomb proof in a sheltered spot, and spend their Sundays in it, until the hunting season is over. Several who have inadvertently gone out of their houses in the last few weeks have narrowly escaped being peppered with shot. A man, who was painting his house, was obliged to dig out several bullets and putty up the holes before he could wield the brush. In another house a bullet entered a window.

Every Sunday, numberless small boys, and some who have reached years when they are commonly supposed to know better, sally forth with their rifles and shot guns, and spend the entire day on the marsh near the Robinson brewery or on the flats a short distance above the Monterey bridge. They rarely return with much, if any game to show for their pains, but all day long they bang away, and several residents of that neighborhood have narrowly escaped while their houses carry the marks of the Nimrods who must hunt, even if it is in the city limits.

DANCE FOR SAKE OF SWEET CHARITY

Many Attended Dance Given at Assembly Hall for Benefit of Striking Miners.

The dance, given at Assembly hall last evening under the auspices of the Federated Trades' Council for the benefit of the needy families of the striking miners in the Pennsylvania coal fields, was a decided success. About one hundred couples were present to enjoy the evening and spent the time happily until one o'clock, dancing to the music of Baldwin & Rehfeld's orchestra. All of the expenses for the evening were generously donated and a neat sum was realized for the miners' fund.

THE MARRIED PARTNERS.

A Good Husband Who Helps His Wife In Woman's Sphere.

The "gentle couple" is the name that seems to suit them best. At any rate, that is what I always call them in my mind when the husband and apparently the junior partner of the firm comes to our door twice a week—the first time with his clothes bag for the wash and the second time, on Friday evening, with crisp, snowy linen and smooth, perfectly ironed shirt waists—blue, white, pink and lavender—all done in neat paper parcels. He is a small man, rather timid and hesitating in manner, but the manner is that of a gentleman. The little man is our wash lady. He is not a Chinaman, but an intelligent.

THE MAN WASH LADY.

white, Anglo-Saxon man. He and his wife operate a laundry in partnership, and it is the best laundry I know of. His wife is taller than he and not so sweet tempered looking as he; still she is not a sour woman. She is shrewd, rather than he and attends to the mathematical end of the enterprise. She keeps the books, irons the starched things and wraps up the parcels of shining clean clothes. He goes after the linen, carries it home when it is ready and does the washing. Yes, he does. He has found his niche and fills it well. He wrestles over the washboard as cheerfully and effectively as though he had not invaded woman's sphere at all, but was doing man's work. Perhaps he is.

Everything is very quiet in the little laundry shop. Across its plate glass window is stretched an ivory white Japanese silk curtain upon a brass rod. It looks really aesthetic, especially as the window shines like a diamond, it is so clean, and the walls and shelves of the place are spotless and sweet smelling. When the silken curtain becomes dingy, it is taken down and washed.

The gentle couple do not speak of themselves or their history. They have little to say to their neighbors, though they are civil and polite to all. They have never quarreled even with the people who live upstairs over their heads. Who they are or whence they came few in the neighborhood know. They are well bred and intelligent, and their silence and their appearance and manner tell a story in spite of them, and the story is true.

It is that they began life in a so called higher station than that which they occupy now and that they had some money. They lost it and slid down, down by degrees to the bottom of the ladder. The mild little man attempted to get work to support them. In the wild whirl of American city life he was tossed and dashed hither and thither and finally buried upon the shore, out of the swim. He was inefficient, helpless. He lost his grip. Then the second act in this little human comedy suggests itself, and this part of the story is true too.

The wife takes the steering gear into her hands. The husband's voice is mild and atonic. There is a ring of aggressiveness in hers. She is naturally the strong, pushing one. The little man is as good as gold, but he cannot make a living alone. He is too light in weight to shovel sand, he is too weak to force himself into a place for which half a dozen stronger, more capable men are already tussling. Madam decides she will start a laundry and that her husband shall help her with it till something else offers him better employment.

The laundry is started. It is very popular because everything is done so satisfactorily. Linen is called for and delivered promptly, even handkerchiefs are scarcely ever lost or misplaced, the garments are as clean and odorless as if they were done in a home laundry, as they are really. The married partners have all the business they can attend to.

Year after year has gone by. There is now no suggestion that the mild mannered little man shall seek employment elsewhere. That has been given up. The partners have a snug sum in the savings bank; they have insured their lives—each for the other. Every holiday, like Christmas or Thanksgiving, they give themselves the afternoon and go out somewhere to take the air together or attend some place of amusement. They have no children, so are all in all to each other. And, really, thinking over the married folk I am well acquainted with, this masculine wash lady and his partner wife seem to be the happiest couple I know.

BUYS BIG TRACT OF BELOIT LAND

Powers and Connell Buy Thirty Thousand Dollars Worth of Beloit Real Estate.

Beloit has established some records during the summer in the way of real estate deals, but its past marks were eclipsed by a transfer which was brought about in that city yesterday. J. A. Powers of Ushkosh and W. D. Cornell of Fond du Lac closed a purchase of a large tract of land in a desirable part of the city.

Large Sale of Land
Forty acres of land in McGavock's fourth addition were disposed of at a consideration which is supposed to be in the neighborhood of between thirty and forty thousand dollars. This land lies on the "west side" beyond McKinley avenue, between C and Liberty streets.

To Be Sold For Residences
These gentlemen have left their agent in Beloit to engineer the platting and sale of the property. It is understood that as soon as platted the lands will be disposed of to the many ready buyers who are constantly on the look-out for building property in the Line City.

Indian Hallstones.
Hallstones nearly three pounds in weight fell during a recent storm at Jessore, in Bengal. Metal veranda roofs were perforated, cattle maimed, trees beaten down and a man killed outright by the downfall.
